TR7 Table

Description

The TR7 table lamp is being relaunched with a different base. The new foot means that the lamp now stands lower, so that it merges beautifully with the surface on which it is placed. The base is made of plywood, which plays nicely against the Finnish birch, from which the slats in the screen are made.

The TR7 series features Tom Rossau's well-known organic shapes that elegantly twist around each other. The table lamp's size makes it ideal for placing in dark corners and smaller rooms, where the sculptural design comes to the fore and takes on a central role.

TR7 creates pleasant and calm lighting in any room, as the lamp's lamella shade encloses the bulbs and produces a beautiful, indirect illumination.
